

"Berry's for Clothes"

THE BELTED OVERCOAT FOR MEN.

Fortunately for you this season variety is the thing in overcoats.

There are blues, browns, tans, grays and the new Cambridge cloth, and a wonderful collection of rough novelty mixtures, all in varying weaves and weights.

But the big feature of this season's overcoat styles is the belted coat, in any one of a half dozen variations.

The belt may be sewn or plain, embellished with a button or two, divided in the center, or made in three piece effect, but to be an overcoat it must be belted one way or another.

Our best bet is the London "Slip-on" cut a little below the knee, Ragland or Square shoulders, patch or slash pockets, and an abbreviated belt which gathers the garment into a folded effect at the waist.

Smart is not the word for it, nor shapely, nor swagger, for it is all of these and much more besides. It is the choicest, most exclusive fall overcoat that ever came from the tailor's bench.

BELTED OVERCOATS $20 to $30.

Coats for boys, girls and Misses, too.

Ch. D. Dyer

in charge of Conductor W. M. Whitehurst, of this city. Engineer Tighe, who received minor bruises, arrived in Richmond last night with the relief train, and left later for his home in Raleigh, N. C.

The wrecked train was due in Petersburg at 4:20 o'clock and in Richmond at 5:05. The scene of the accident is fifty-three miles from Richmond and thirty from Petersburg.

So masterful and potent a man is he that his strangely indisputable utterance upon occasions, which fell oftener than could be wished, was lost sight of in the figure of the tortured, haunted man who was Macbeth, not Macbeth, Glams he was, and Cawdor, scheming, plotting, and plotting, and prophesying into fulfillment, shuddering at the deed he contemplated, and shrinking even from himself when it was done, and red-handed, he stood trembling on his battlements. Miserable king he was, wading deeper and deeper into blood, crying, crying, and sinking checks, striving to comfort himself with the superstition that none "of woman born" should harm Macbeth, and that he should never be vanquished till Birnam Wood should come to Dunsinane. All these he was and showed them in his twitching face and deep circles under his eyes, and in his hands, and in his frightened moans, until the deficiencies in his surroundings were forgotten.

Forgotten were the shabby costumes, the worn settings, the barbarous "supper" in tin and battered helmets, and all the attendant evils which we have learned to associate with the production of Shakespeare's plays, and we saw only Macbeth, and forgave him because in his racked anguish he sometimes could not make himself distinctly understood.

Announcement was made in the pro-

SUIT INSTITUTED AGAINST C. & O.

Government Alleges Violation of Sixteen-Hour Labor Law.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., November 1.—Suit was instituted today in the Federal District Court by District Attorney Barnes Gillespie in the name of the United States government against the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, in which penalties amount to $15,000 for alleged violations of the law forbidding workmen to work more than sixteen consecutive hours.

The instances charged in the declaration, and there are several of them, arose on the James River Division of the railway between Gladstone and Clifton Forge, or on the main line of the system between Clifton Forge and Hinton, Va., during the month of April last.

The violations charged were with regard to the following trainmen: T. C. McLean, brakeman; H. D. Saunders, conductor; H. W. Kern, brakeman; R. J. Hyde, brakeman; R. B. Taylor, brakeman; E. C. Hubbard, conductor; C. M. Jackson, brakeman; C. H. Swenson, brakeman; S. H. Haynes, engineer; W. D. Adams, brakeman; J. J. Greaver, conductor; R. A. Weaver, brakeman; H. W. Horton, brakeman; H. M. Newcomb, engineer; C. S. Sneed, brakeman; W. C. Pollock, conductor; H. J. S. Smith, brakeman; J. Crawford, brakeman; R. G. Hall, engineer; L. L. Sullivan, brakeman; D. H. Hardy, conductor; C. G. Meadows, brakeman; E. H. Helm, brakeman; G. W. Hamilton, brakeman; M. T. Wiseman, engineer, and S. O. Evans, brakeman.

The process against the railway company will go out of the clerk's office immediately, and the case will mature in time for trial at the next term of the District Court here in March.

AMUSEMENTS.

Academy—Robert B. Mantell, in "The Merchant of Venice," this afternoon, and in "King Richard the Third" to-night.

Dijon—"The Call of the Heart," matinee and night.

Colonial—Vaudeville.

Empire—Vaudeville.

Lubin—Vaudeville.

Little Theatre—Pictures and songs.

Mantell as "Macbeth." After many years of heart-breaking struggle, hampered by difficulties almost unquarable, his way barred by obstacles well-nigh insurmountable, Robert B. Mantell, but a few years ago obtained the recognition that had long been rightly his, and assumed what was proudly yielded him—a most commanding position upon the American stage. Confining himself to Shakespearean and classical repertoire, the few who dare adventure that which yields the least returns financially of all the forms and characters of the drama. Therefore, he is greatly to be honored, and all his undertakings most respectfully treated.

Mr. Mantell, for the first of his three performances during this engagement in Richmond, presented last night "Macbeth" before a profoundly interested audience, which more than atoned for its lack of numbers by the earnest and understanding attention with which it viewed and heard the gloomy tragedy as it was unfolded by this masterful man.

So masterful and potent a man is he that his strangely indisputable utterance upon occasions, which fell oftener than could be wished, was lost sight of in the figure of the tortured, haunted man who was Macbeth, not Macbeth, Glams he was, and Cawdor, scheming, plotting, and plotting, and prophesying into fulfillment, shuddering at the deed he contemplated, and shrinking even from himself when it was done, and red-handed, he stood trembling on his battlements. Miserable king he was, wading deeper and deeper into blood, crying, crying, and sinking checks, striving to comfort himself with the superstition that none "of woman born" should harm Macbeth, and that he should never be vanquished till Birnam Wood should come to Dunsinane. All these he was and showed them in his twitching face and deep circles under his eyes, and in his hands, and in his frightened moans, until the deficiencies in his surroundings were forgotten.

Forgotten were the shabby costumes, the worn settings, the barbarous "supper" in tin and battered helmets, and all the attendant evils which we have learned to associate with the production of Shakespeare's plays, and we saw only Macbeth, and forgave him because in his racked anguish he sometimes could not make himself distinctly understood.

Announcement was made in the pro-

THE WEATHER.

Forecast: Virginia—Fair and colder Saturday; Sunday fair.

North Carolina—Fair and colder Saturday; Sunday fair.

Special Local Data for Yesterday.
12 noon temperature 74
3 P. M. temperature 74
Maximum temperature up to 8 P. M. temperature 75
Minimum temperature up to 8 P. M. temperature 62
Mean temperature 69
Normal temperature 62
Excess in temperature 7
Excess in temperature since March 1 36
Accum. deficiency in temperature since January 1 495
Rainfall last twenty-four hours48
Deficiency in rainfall since March 1 4.82
1 inch deficiency in rainfall since January 1 4.35
Local Observation 8 P. M. Yesterday.
Temperature 66
Humidity 85
Wind—direction N. W.
Wind—velocity 12
Weather Cloudy
Rainfall last 12 hours48

CONDITIONS IN IMPORTANT CITIES.
AT 8 P. M. Eastern Standard Time.
City Temp. Wind. Clouds.
Asheville 42 42 Cloudy
Atlanta 66 46 Cloudy
Atlantic City 60 54 Cloudy
Boston 42 42 Cloudy
Buffalo 45 58 Cloudy
Calgary 40 52 21 P. cloudy
Charleston 50 52 Cloudy
Chicago 42 42 Cloudy
Cincinnati 42 42 Cloudy
Denver 46 52 21 Clear
Detroit 42 42 Cloudy
Galveston 72 72 21 Clear
Havana 40 54 16 Clear
Jacksonville 72 72 21 Rain
Kansas City 42 42 Cloudy
Louisville 42 42 Cloudy
Montgomery 52 52 21 Cloudy
New Orleans 50 52 21 Cloudy
New York 42 42 Cloudy
Norfolk 70 70 21 Cloudy
Oklahoma 42 42 21 Clear
Pittsburgh 42 42 21 Cloudy
Portland 42 42 21 Cloudy
Raleigh 40 44 21 Cloudy
St. Paul 20 34 21 Clear
San Francisco 52 52 21 Cloudy
Savannah 42 42 21 Cloudy
Spokane 44 48 21 Cloudy
Tampa 74 74 21 Clear
Washington 54 54 21 P. cloudy
Wilmington 42 42 21 Cloudy
Wynneville 42 42 21 P. cloudy

MINIATURE ALMANAC.
Sun rises November 2, 1912.
Sun sets 5:37
Sun gets 5:33

"I'll be glad to play any of these Victor Records"

Made by The World Famous Soprano, Mme. Marcella Sembrich who will appear Monday evening November 11th, at the

CITY AUDITORIUM

Semiramide—Bel raggio lusinghier (Bright Gleam of Hope). Rossini.
Sonnambula—Ah non giunge (Recall Not One Earthly Sorrow). Bellini.
Traviata—Ah! fors' e lui (He My Heart Forsook). Giuseppe Verdi.
Vespre Siciliane—Morce di lette amiche (Dear Friends). Verdi.
Voci di primavera—Valse (Voice of Spring). Johann Strauss.

Other Records in to-morrow's ad. Come every day and hear the new ones.

The Carley Company
Successors Cable Piano Co.
Mad. 2586. 213 E. Broad.

ram that the version of the play used was prepared from Edwin Booth's prompt book, and was marked by the usual omissions of both text and character. Little, comparatively, was either omitted or cut; but three important scenes were stricken out, several were curtailed and several more were run together, but for the most part, the text of the play was followed with almost literal fidelity.

Florence Rockwell was heartily applauded after the sleep-walking scene, and took several curtain calls, and after the scene of Macbeth's redoubt of the north, was also insistently recalled; but the figure of Macbeth so dominated the performance that little else remains in memory, and that figure remains so consistently Macbeth that it is difficult to substitute for it the actor Mantell—to think of the man instead of the deed character that he represented.

This afternoon Mr. Mantell will be seen as Shylock, a role that he played superbly here two years ago, and to-night he will play "King Richard the Third."

W. Douglas Gordon.

News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau.
The Times-Dispatch.
1009 Hull Street.
Phone Madison 115.

An added impetus was last night given to the South Richmond and Chesterfield Business Men's Association, which it was feared would come to an untimely end by lack of interest. Instead of disbanding the association was given a new lease of life by the addition of new members. Others, it is said, are only waiting an opportunity to join. The association, composed of J. M. Pettigrew, president, J. J. Redford, secretary, and J. J. Redford, treasurer, was organized to-day.

Unbounded enthusiasm marked the talks of the dozen or more representative business men, who ridiculed the idea of allowing an organization of such usefulness to pass away at a time when, by the change in the form of city government, a watchdog is needed to safeguard the interests of the Southside. The organization provided it had good solid work to keep the interest of the members.

Montague to speak Monday Night. Although unable to secure a speaker for the mass-meeting which was scheduled for to-night, the South Richmond Democratic Club was fortunate in securing for to-night, the speaker of former Governor Andrew J. Montague, who will address the voters at the Southside Monday night in the Courthouse. The meeting will be open to all, and every person who is able to attend, Mr. Montague last summer while in the city, he addressed a large audience at a political meeting on the Southside.

Willie C. Phillips has been elected to read Governor Woodrow Wilson's message to the voters. This speech of Mr. Wilson will be read in practically every voting precinct in the city.

Patrolman J. Lacy Redford has made arrangements to have the park benches removed to the Courthouse. It has been the custom of two-thirds of the people to stand in the rear of the court-room, unable to secure seats.

Explosion Kills Two Men. By a premature explosion of a charge of dynamite two men, both colored, were killed yesterday morning at 5 o'clock at Smith's Hill Park. The men were packing dynamite in a rock quarry when the dynamite in a crevice in a rock, exploded. The dead were John White and Anderson Brown.

Coroner J. G. Loving, of Chesterfield County, yesterday afternoon, after examining a jury entered into an investigation of the cause of the death of a man, who was killed by a falling rock, at Smith's Hill Park. A verdict was returned that the death was caused by a falling rock, and the jury was discharged.

White lived at Granite, about two miles from the scene of the accident. His wife, Mrs. White, lives at Granite. He had been working in the quarry for some time, and was killed by a falling rock.

Although convinced that the accused were technically guilty as charged, Judge C. G. Cox, of the Chesterfield County Court, yesterday afternoon, after examining a jury entered into an investigation of the cause of the death of a man, who was killed by a falling rock, at Smith's Hill Park. A verdict was returned that the death was caused by a falling rock, and the jury was discharged.

Another Convict at Large. A report has been received from Henry Pinkett, colored, is the latest convict to decide that freedom was preferable to prison life. He is now at large in the highways of Chesterfield County, and is believed to be working in the vicinity of Bon Air. He is a dangerous criminal, and is believed to be a member of the "Cotton Club."

Collections Above Average. The collections of the Southside during the past month were somewhat above the average, according to the report made yesterday by Deputy Treasurer J. W. Brown. The largest single item was $2,425, water rents for the quarter. Deputy Collector J. B. Roberts turned in $2,350 in current taxes, which will be turned over to City Collector H. L. Stiles. Delinquent taxes amounting to $12,000 were collected by him for J. C. Walker.

The activities of the Police Court, Part II, which was held in the Courthouse yesterday, were received through Justice H. A. Maurice. The clerk's fees in Justice Court, Part II, amounted to $25.25, covering our time?" asked the Governor. "No mandate of the people has ever gotten through that body. You have got to capture that citadel of private interests known as the United States Senate."

MARCH OF CONGRESS MEN IS ABANDONED

(Continued From First Page.)

Tainted by Purchase. "The Senate, tainted by the purchase of seats, to the shame of the people of the country, tainted by the point of view of its life-long members, has not in our time responded to the impulses of the people of the United States. If you postpone your reforms long you will smash every party in the United States, because there are things to be done and we cannot wait. You will have to wait for either branch of the Republican party."

The Governor said his program was to make unlawful those methods of unfair competition through which, he said, monopoly had thrived, and added: "It is perfectly possible to find out the men who are responsible. There have been cases tried in the United States Senate where everybody who toasts the newspapers knew who the guilty persons were except the court."

The prosecuting attorney had never heard of the guilty man, and was putting up a certain number of rather helpless looking dummies to be tried by the jury. "I do not mind putting a dummy or two in jail, for the reason that I like to stop the traffic in dummies. I like to make it dangerous to be dummies."

Some people, the Governor remarked, believed the offender in a corporation could not be found, but the nominee suggested that a "diligent search had never been made."

Regulation of Competition. Taking up the question of regulating competition, he continued: "Do you have talked about the regulation of competition and men have asked me what I meant. I meant the stopping of competition that is not fair. If a great monopolistic combination sees to it that you can't get a start by underselling you in your local market, on such terms that they are thus making money there, and can do that only because they are making money elsewhere, that is a case of unfair competition. You can make that kind of competition criminal. A thing that is criminal becomes inconvenient."

"I do not propose that the government fix prices. But I do suggest that it is possible; this country has to use its raw material. Its raw material must be accessible and it is perfectly legitimate for the government to say, 'you can sell your raw material at any price you please, but you have got to sell it to everybody at the same price.' That is not interference with the rights of property. That is interference with the right of monopoly, and I stand absolutely on the sentence in the Democratic platform that says private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. I pledge myself, if ever I have power, to do everything honorable to break up the private monopoly in the United States."

"Then what will happen? You say big business will be damaged. Do you mean to say big business must rest on the basis of monopoly, that it can't be successfully conducted on a great scale except by monopoly? The men who have depended on these methods will have to depend on the character of the goods they manufacture, the prices, the efficiency and energy with which they organize their business and seek their markets, and so far as I am concerned, they are welcome to grow as big as they please by these means."

The Governor and his party left at 12:10 o'clock for New York.

Celebrate Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. George T. Jones last night gave a reception at their home in honor of the twentieth anniversary of their marriage. A large number of guests were present and spent a very enjoyable evening.

At West End Church To-Morrow. At the West End Methodist Church the pastor, Rev. Charles H. Smith, will preach at both services to-morrow. In the morning the subject will be "The Glory of God's House." The Lord's Supper will be observed. In the afternoon the subject will be "The Glory of God's House." The Lord's Supper will be observed.

Personal Mention. Miss Margaret, who has been the guest of Miss Olivia Gregory, has returned to her home in Lawrenceville. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, who are now in the city.

Climate Failed; Medicine Effective. It has been absolutely shown that rest, fresh air and good food do help, many patients, in the case of tuberculosis. It must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed to cure it.

Dr. E. W. Allen, of the University of Maryland, has been successful in the treatment of tuberculosis. He has cured many cases of the disease, and his method is now being used in many hospitals.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

THE SHOWY CLASS

Crossett style places you among the Brotherhood of the Careful, where fashion's in favor.

Crossett comfort gives you front rank in the Out-o'-door Army where man is known by the milestones he passes.

Pick out your Crossetts today.

TRADE MARK

$4 to $6 everywhere

LEWIS A. CROSSETT INC.

North Abington Mass.

MAKES LIFE'S WALK EASY

STREET

its raw material. Its raw material must be accessible and it is perfectly legitimate for the government to say, 'you can sell your raw material at any price you please, but you have got to sell it to everybody at the same price.'

That is not interference with the rights of property. That is interference with the right of monopoly, and I stand absolutely on the sentence in the Democratic platform that says private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. I pledge myself, if ever I have power, to do everything honorable to break up the private monopoly in the United States."

Then what will happen? You say big business will be damaged. Do you mean to say big business must rest on the basis of monopoly, that it can't be successfully conducted on a great scale except by monopoly? The men who have depended on these methods will have to depend on the character of the goods they manufacture, the prices, the efficiency and energy with which they organize their business and seek their markets, and so far as I am concerned, they are welcome to grow as big as they please by these means."

The Governor and his party left at 12:10 o'clock for New York.

Celebrate Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. George T. Jones last night gave a reception at their home in honor of the twentieth anniversary of their marriage. A large number of guests were present and spent a very enjoyable evening.

At West End Church To-Morrow. At the West End Methodist Church the pastor, Rev. Charles H. Smith, will preach at both services to-morrow. In the morning the subject will be "The Glory of God's House." The Lord's Supper will be observed. In the afternoon the subject will be "The Glory of God's House." The Lord's Supper will be observed.

Personal Mention. Miss Margaret, who has been the guest of Miss Olivia Gregory, has returned to her home in Lawrenceville. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, who are now in the city.

Climate Failed; Medicine Effective. It has been absolutely shown that rest, fresh air and good food do help, many patients, in the case of tuberculosis. It must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed to cure it.

Dr. E. W. Allen, of the University of Maryland, has been successful in the treatment of tuberculosis. He has cured many cases of the disease, and his method is now being used in many hospitals.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

John W. Kinchloe. John W. Kinchloe, a member of the Virginia Legislature and for many years moderator of the Potomac Baptist Association, died Wednesday at his home in Reston, at the age of eighty.

AGED WOMAN DIES

Wife of Late John H. Taylor Passed Away Yesterday.

Mrs. Sallie E. Taylor, one of the oldest and best known women in Hanover County, died at her home, near Hanover Courthouse, yesterday morning in the eighty-second year of her age. She was the widow of John H. Taylor, who was for many years clerk of the court in Hanover County, and whose son, Clarence W. Taylor, now holds the same position.

Mrs. Taylor's funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Hanover Courthouse.

Besides Clarence W. Taylor, she leaves two other sons, Percy A. Taylor, who is employed by the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, and Marshall, who lives in Texas. She leaves four daughters—Mrs. Dabney Scholz of Clifton Forge, Mrs. E. K. Coward of Columbia, V. Miss Mary D. Taylor, and Miss Sallie F. Taylor.

Mrs. Taylor was married to a number of well known persons in her life. Among them are Garland B. Taylor, of Barton Heights; R. Cardwell Taylor, deputy clerk of the Supreme Court of Appeals; Art A. Warren P. and Ashby Taylor.

DEATHS

LEVERING—Died, Frid., November 1, at 5 P. M., at his residence, 1117 West Avenue, ARTHUR LEVERING, in his sixty-eighth year. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Levering, and three sons—Harry P. Roy A. and Fred S.

The remains will be taken to-day at noon to Bethlehem and interment made in Nis' Hill Cemetery MONDAY, Nov. 4.

MAYFIELD—Died, November 1, 1912, NINA ELIZABETH MAYFIELD, daughter of the late J. M. and E. S. Mayfield.

FUNERAL TO-DAY (Saturday) at 3 P. M., residence, 1307 G. Avenue. Lynchburg papers etc.

IN MEMORIA
KAT—In sad but loving remembrance of my husband, W. E. H., who departed this life three years ago, Nov. 2, 1909.
Gone, but not forgotten.
WIFE.

DETROIT GAS RANGE, ALASKA REFRIGERATOR, OLD HICKORY FURNACE, SOLD ONLY BY

JURGENS

The Geo. A. Huney Co.
514-516 East Broad Street.
5 years old Calvert Pump $3.00
Rye Whiskey, gallon..... $3.00
Mail orders solicited. Priced mailed on request.

Nursery Fenders. 3.00
75c to

The E. B. Taylor Co.

The Best in Hears at Jones Bros. & Co. Inc.
1418-1420 E. Main St.

Children's School Shoes, $1.00
ALBERT STEIN
KING OF SHOES,
Corner 8th and Blvd.

ALBERT STEIN

ALBERT STEIN

ALBERT STEIN

ALBERT STEIN

ALBERT STEIN